The nineteen hundred sixty-two Buccaneer endeavors to highlight fifty years of growth at East Tennessee State College. There has been fifty years of progress characterized by quality in the rise from a two-year Normal School to a leading modern college.

East Tennessee State College has developed from an idea to an impressive reality with her continually expanding campus. Quality is evidenced throughout her history; quality that was shaped with careful intent and now is upheld with great esteem. Our college has developed from floundering dependence to ambitious maturity, broadening her scope each day and growing into the image designed by her founders. Within her walls of wisdom and experience, East Tennessee State College has guided and inspired intellect for fifty years, from the first one hundred-eleven students to the more than five thousand at the present.

A small, faltering flicker in 1911, now a bright, steady flame, our college radiates her success proudly. And as her steady light moves onward, the once dim shadows are now bright possibilities for the further growth of East Tennessee State College.

Dedicated to Those Who Made

Through their music, these young men attracted audiences for those who campaigned for a college in East Tennessee.

The taxpayer is our source of financial support.

With the serene and inspiring natural beauty of East Tennessee, no better site could have been selected for our college. For this reason, we can especially appreciate the generous donation of George L. Carter who gave the original tract of 120 acres for East Tennessee State Normal.

It was through the tireless efforts of five men, however, that the state was persuaded to make a provision for normal schools in Tennessee. Dr. P.P. Claxton, S.A. Mynders, R.L. Jones, J.W. Brister, and Sidney Gilbreath campaigned continuously from 1902 to 1911. The political influence of the 1909 and 1911 Tennessee legislatures, dedication of ideals, direct contributions of time and money, and the loyal support of Tennessee citizens all have made State possible. It has been the hard work of administrators and the support of the college alumni who have successfully steered East Tennessee State College through her early years on to maturity. It is the taxpaying citizen who has financially enabled our college to prosper and expand.

It was this land that inspired past generations, the people who founded our college. Now it is for us to appreciate, not only for its external beauty, but for our great heritage.

The Tennessee Legislature of 1909 authorized the State Board of Education to establish three normal schools.

First Buildings

In 1911 the campus was composed of five buildings: the administration building, the president's home, the women's dormitory, the dining hall, and the heating plant. With the exception of the president's home, these buildings have subsequently been remodeled and enlarged.

The administration building, known as Gilbreath Hall, originally housed all classrooms, the library, and the gymnasium.

First People . . .

The late Dr. Sidney G. Gilbreath was elected as first president of East Tennessee State Normal in 1910. His excellent background and vigorous promotion of higher education gave him the ability to guide our school well. Before the official opening of the school in 1911, he supervised the construction of the buildings and worked on the courses of study to be offered. In selecting his faculty he used wisdom and care, seeking the best qualified people.

Charles Hodge Mathes served as the first dean of the college and played an important part in launching the school upon its impressive history. The original faculty of twenty-two also included: Edwin W. Kennedy, Samuel W. Sherrill, David R. Haworth, William J. Sowder, David S. Burleson, Walter C. Wilson, David B. Simpson, John F. Boyd, Frederick W. Alexander, Della D. Smith, Della Stroud, Elma L. Rankin, William L. Prince, Elizabeth E. Slocumb, Nellie Cooper, Sadie Brooks, Elizabeth Miller Carr, Elbridge J. Baxter, Mary Moore Davis. During the first year Mr. Simpson and Miss Stroud resigned and were replaced by Christian E. Rogers and Alexandra Allen Arrants.

Normal School History

On October 2, 1911, East Tennessee State Normal opened its doors as a two-year state Normal School. Entrance requirements specified good moral character, good health, and at least the elementary school course prescribed for the public schools of the state. Two courses were offered: the academic and normal. The academic was on the level of the four-year high school level and a person completing this could teach in the elementary school. The normal course of two years prepared teachers for public schools.

Tuition was free then as it is now. Expenses per quarter included $2.00 for registration, $6.00 for a room in the dormitory, board in the dining hall was $24.00, and books averaged between $2.00 - $3.00. Now we know what they mean about the "good old days."

In 1915 the Model-School Building was ready for use as a training school. Located in the area between the college entrance and the present Training-School, it was torn down when the Training-School Building was built. An addition to the Dining Hall was erected in 1916, which was converted into a barrack for the Student Army Training Corps during World War II. Other buildings added to East Tennessee State-Normal were a men's dormitory built on a new land acquisition of six acres, a gymnasium, and a library.

In 1921 the college changed from a two-year to a three-year normal school. A diploma course was also introduced with the result of a considerable broadening of course offerings.

The "Chalk Line" was the first student newspaper, first printed as a magazine. "Old Hickory" was the first annual of about one hundred pages, presented as the work of the senior class.

Developed Into

The students at East Tennessee State Normal were not lacking for organizations and activities. They established the two original literary societies, the "Pestalozzian" for men and the "Sapphonian" for women. Both were primarily literary, only secondarily social. In 1912-13 the "Mary Moore Davis Literary Society" was organized, followed by the "Watauga Literary Society" in 1913-14.

In 1913 the three State Normal Schools formed an "Inter-Normal Debating League," although it dissolved five years later and was eventually replaced by Pi Kappa Delta. The Alumni Association was organized in 1915, and in 1916 the student body organized itself as the United Student Body for the purpose of giving direction and support to the various school activities. Religious organizations on campus were the Y.M.C.A. and the Y.W.C.A. which promoted physical, social, and religious activities. Other organizations included the Athletic Association, the Walking Club, and even a "Bobbed-Hair Club" which was the result of the new style in 1921.

The "East Tennessee State Teacher" was the first publication in the form of a student journal, followed by the "Blue and Gold." "Normal News" was the last of the student journals in 1923. The "Chalk Line" was the first student newspaper and the first annual in 1919 was "Old Hickory."

In 1925 the school became East Tennessee State Teachers' College. Greater expansion and improvement followed immediately. In 1928 the Training-School Building was erected, designed for observation, demonstration, and directed teaching. Being equipped with facilities for all elementary and high school students, the Training-School has been a distinctive feature of the college. The Training School has won national recognition for its work; delegations and teachers from various parts of East Tennessee have come here for observations.

Ye' ole Oak!

Coincident with the change of the college to East Tennessee State Teachers' College, Dr. Charles C. Sherrod became the second president. It was through his efforts that many of the new buildings acquired during his administration were carefully planned for maximum efficiency. The auditorium of the administration building was remodeled in 1926, and in 1931 the Charles C. Sherrod Library was erected. Carter Hall was completely remodeled and enlarged. From 1933 to 1935 the stadium and amphitheater were built. Other additions were the Home Management House, the Educational Clinic, and the N.Y.A. Shop. Approximately twenty-three acres were also acquired.

Moved Forward in the Forties

In 1926 we became an accredited member of the American Association of Teachers' Colleges and in 1927 East Tennessee State Teachers' College was admitted into the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. Now being a fully accredited teachers' college, advances were further made in course study and curricula. Stand-ardization of quarter hours and credits followed and the number of students to a class was brought within the required limits. General development and advancement was characteristic of the period and enrollment increased despite the restrictions of the depression.

Cooper Hall for girls, located on a hillside on the Southeastern fringe of the campus, was the college's second women's dormitory. Cooper, an elegantly handsome structure, formerly was the home of the late George L. Carter, prominent area industrialist who played a major role in the establishment of ETSC.

The first house mother of Cooper was Ella V. Ross, now dean of students and director of Student Personnel Services at the College.

With Expansion of

East Tennessee State Teachers College reached a major milestone at the beginning of the decade of the 1930s. The school achieved the status of a four-year teachers' college and began offering the Bachelor of Science degree. Increases in enrollment, faculty members and facilities accompanied these advances. Progress in facilities during the decade included remodeling of the administration building, construction of a new Training School, erection of a library building, construction of a men's dormitory, renovation of Carter Hall, building of a new stadium, and considerable addition to the library's resources. The school's enhanced academic status, broadening curriculum, and increased facilities brought its total enrollment at the beginning of the new decade to 741 students, an impressive number at that time. The college had become solidly established as a first-rate teacher training institution.

Students, Buildings, Curriculum and Faculty.

During the war years, the college played its part in the national defense effort. In addition to participating in the various types of general service incident to war, the College also made other contributions. Civilian Pilot Training was conducted, giving special courses and flight-training. From March 1, 1943 until June 30, 1944, seven hundred thirty-four aviation students in the "2205 Army Air Forces Air-Base Unit" were trained here. They were housed in the men's dormitory and fed in the cafeteria. Special courses were also offered in preparation of skilled and semi-skilled workers in War Industrial Plants.

Now We Have Become East Tennessee

Responding to the challenges of the war and post-war years for the broadening of the scope of American education to meet the needs of an increasingly dynamic society, ETSC underwent a major transformation in the decade of 1940-50. The College enlarged its program so as to become a full-scale liberal arts college, offering, in addition to teacher training, pre-professional and liberal arts training and graduate work in many different fields, and adding to its Bachelor of Science degree, the Bachelor of Arts degree, the Bachelor of Science in Nursing degree, and the Master of Arts Degree. In the field of reading laboratory and instruction work it acquired a national reputation.

The acceleration of the College's progress in the academic field was matched by an appropriate quickening of the tempo of forward movement in other phases of development. New dormitories sprung up to help accomodate an enrollment steadily climbing into the thousands. A mammoth student center was erected to provide extra-curricular features for a student body that by 1961 had grown to over five thousand. Spacious new buildings for science and physical education at the beginning of the decade were the prelude to a program of new academic buildings including modern structures for health education, pre-engineering, and English and Modern Languages. Showing itself to be in the main stream of the contemporary scientific thrust, the college also began work on what will be the second college planetarium in the South for space-age study in astronomy and related fields. Along with the new buildings, a renovation of existing facilities provided expanded quarters for various departments.

Tragedy Adds A Sobering Note

In the spring of 1961, catastrophe struck a hard blow to the Pan-Hellenic program on the campus. Not too long before, the Pan-Hellenic organization, which is composed of the college's national social sororities, had acquired a new building on the southwest edge of the campus as a location for its numerous activities. The attractive red-brick structure included a common room for receptions, teas, and other social events and meeting rooms for the individual member organizations. The building provided impressive tangible evidence of the growth and prominence of the sorority movement on the campus and strengthened the movement by enabling it to conduct its activities in an appropriate setting and a central headquarters. The catastrophe which struck the movement took the form of a devastating fire which totally destroyed the new building. At press time plans were gathering momentum for the construction of a new building as soon as is possible.

In Memoriam

In the spring of 1961, East Tennessee State College lost one of its most able and dedicated faculty members. Emmett F. Sawyer, associate professor of sociology, died a few hours after suffering injuries in a tractor accident on his farm. Mr. Sawyer's death left a vacuum impossible to fill in more than one phase of the college's life. As a teacher, he brought a unique combination of humanity and congenial warmth to his classroom which made work taken under him an unforgettable experience. As chairman of both the Lyceum and Central Religious Councils, he gave his class-free hours to untiring striving for the promotion of greater cultural and spiritual life on the campus. His unfailing optimism and undaunted good humor imparted courage to those who worked with him on the most difficult tasks. He was a friend to all who knew him and his untimely death brought an abiding sense of shock and loss.

ADMINISTRATION

The Governor and the State Board

Throughout his administration, Governor Buford Ellington has been a staunch supporter of education. East Tennessee State College can look forward to continued progress because of the combined efforts of Governor Ellington and the State Board of Education.

The Governor appoints the State Commissioner of Education and all members of the board. The State Board of Education, headed by Commissioner Joe Morgan, determines such things as Campus policies, budgets, and teacher appointments.

EAST

TENNESSEE STATE COLLEGE

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

December 15, 1961

LET US GO FORWARD WITH EAST TENNESSEE STATE COLLEGE!

Since East Tennessee State College has approached an important milestone in its onward march, and since objectives in quantitative terms (buildings, equipment, books, salaries, scholarships, fellowships, etc.) have been presented to most of you, we ought to be thinking about educational objectives for East Tennessee State College in terms of higher education in general in this most important period.

We are today in the midst of an American educational revolution in which the predominant emphasis is on achieving competence equal to capacity, both individually and as a nation. Earlier dominant educational emphases were on citizenship, participation in civic life, democratic living, an awareness of our cultural heritage, and on the collective and cooperative ideals of our society, with strong priority for equality. None of these ought to be rejected fully, but it is now evident that the individual is being recognized more fully, that this involves recognition of and planning for differing abilities, and that competence and competition and, hence, some aspects of social and economic inequality, are the accepted order of the day.

As a further result there is a renewal of an ancient concern for excellence, for quality in education at all levels. Society simply demands it. This is the revolution of which we are a part. Mediocrity will not suffice. We at East Tennessee State College are intensifying our effort to establish a higher base of educational development. In this effort we are getting greater recognition from our public and a more realistic approach to our financial needs is being made at the state level. In view of this increasing recognition it is imperative that every student be personally responsible in justifying the increased support and effort.

With continued good wishes as we face forward from the 50th Year of service to even greater challenges in the future.

Sincerely yours,

Burgin E. Dossett

Mr. Donald R. Carter, Editor
the BUCCANEER
East Tennessee State College
P. O. Box 06
Johnson City, Tennessee

Dear Mr. Carter:

I can't tell you how much of a pleasure it was to judge your pretty contestants.

It was a difficult decision to make as I'd really like to call each girl a winner. However, I was finally able to choose the following girls from each class:

Senior - #3
Junior - #2
Soph. - #3
Fresh. - #2

I'd like to congratulate all of the candidates and wish them all the luck and success in the future.
Warmest wishes to you and the entire East Tennessee
State College staff.

Sincerely,

Pat Boone

Who's Who

Each year a number of students are chosen to represent the College in the national publication Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. Selection is based upon participation in college extra-curricular activities, character, and scholarship. Standardized points are given for membership in organizations and participation in activities, and the student must have maintained a quality point average of at least 2.5.

Homecoming

Visiting alumni begin the Homecoming activities with the annual Alumni Banquet.

Sports cars and pretty cheerleaders stage the Homecoming Parade through downtown Johnson City.

Homecoming, the biggest event of the year, is held on the week-end nearest October 10 in recognition of the East Tennessee State Normal dedication on October 10, 1911. In 1936 East Tennessee State Teachers College celebrated its Silver Jubilee, and now East Tennessee State College is observing a 50th anniversary. This year Homecoming was proudly celebrated with golden enthusiasm. Alumni and students joined together for two days of festive events, ranging from the comic highlights of Pike's Peak to the gala ceremonies of the Homecoming dance. It was a memorable week-end marking an important year in the annals of East Tennessee State College.

A tradition of Homecoming is the sale of Homecoming flowers by the "T" Club.

Homecoming

The floats which have traditionally appeared in the Homecoming Parade were replaced this year by large decorations on the campus and fraternity houses. The displays were perhaps the most colorful aspects of Homecoming in evidence on the campus. Awards for displays, the bicycle race, and rat race were presented at halftime ceremonies during the Homecoming game.

Tom Stiner of Pi Kappa Alpha gleefully holds the first place trophy for displays.

Homecoming chairman Janet Miller presents the second place trophy to Phi Alpha members George Khanbahador and Ron Martin.

Accepting third place trophy for Kappa Delta are Linda Kelly and Joan Haire.

Peak

The sixth annual Pike's Peak, sponsored by Pi Kappa Alpha, was an added attraction to Homecoming. Sororities competed in outdoor events and beauty contests, much to the amusement and enjoyment of the audience. Roller-skating, water relay, egg toss, pie-eating, and three-legged races were some of the stunts. Beauty contests included Best Legs, Sweater Girl, Best Blonde, Best Figure and others. Points were given for each event, with trophies awarded to the sororities with the most points. This year's winners were: First Place—Kappa Delta, Second Place—Alpha Omicron Pi, Third Place—Delta Zeta. Lois Upchurch was selected as "Miss Pike's Peak," a title just originated this year.

Student

The students are organized for the purpose of carrying on the general activities of the school. Officers are elected in the Spring Quarter to take office in the following quarter.

The Student Senate is made up of the officers of the United Student Body and the senators (representatives of the various organizations). The Senate meets twice monthly, discusses school politics, and acts as a governmental board. At the beginning of the Fall Quarter, the United Student Body Officers sponsor a Leadership Conference for all organization senators. At that time plans for the year, as well as a yearly calendar of activities, is formulated.

Alpha Delta Pi

A sheaf of fragrant, purple violets ... an adelphean blue nestled close to a glowing white ... a sacred trust ... "no standard too high for Alpha Delta Pi" ... true sister love ... its founder Eugenia Tucker Fitzgerald ... the first secret society for college women ... clasped hands ...

All of these spell Alpha Delta Pi—but there are no symbols, thoughts, or words that can capture the feeling of pride that the members of Gamma Phi Chapter have for their sorority. It can best be explained through our motto, with greatest sincerity—"We live for each other."

Sigma Kappa

Sigma Kappa, the youngest national sorority at East Tennessee State College, was founded at Colby College, Waterville, Maine in 1874. Gamma Lambda was installed here on March 24 and 25, 1956. Area Alumnae colonized the group. Sorority faculty sponsors are: Mrs. Allie Lou Felton Gilbreath, Mrs. Edward Lodter, Miss Evangeline Hartsock, Miss Margaret Hays, Miss Rachel Eatherly and Miss Anna Bradford.

Sigma Kappa was awarded the Panhellenic Cup for outstanding leadership service and scholarship. Other honors during the year included Scholarship trophy, second place in All-Sing in both large and small groups, second place in Potpourri and one hundred per cent initiation of the pledge class. Our national service project is with the Maine Seacoast Mission. The local service project is at the Veterans Administration.

Lambda Chi Alpha

Lambda Chi Alpha was founded on November 2, 1909, at Boston University. Our local chapter, Iota Omicron, was chartered on April 14, 1956, after our local fraternity, Phi Beta Chi, had been colonized into Lambda Chi Alpha a year previous to this date.

Lambda Chi annually sponsors the Starlight Ball at which the Crescent Girl is chosen. This year Miss Emily Kay Wells was elected to serve as the sweetheart for the coming year. The highlight of the winter quarter is the Lambda Chi Alpha All-Sing, which promotes competition among the Creeks in both large and small group musical selections. The program is staged for two nights, with the trophy presentations occurring on the second evening.

Lambda Chi was the first fraternity at East Tennessee State College to obtain a fraternity house, which was purchased in November of 1957. Mrs. Paul Perry is the housemother. She occupies an apartment in the fraternity house consisting of a sitting room, bedroom and bath. The house accommodates thirty actives and pledges, and last year the chapter opened to its members and guests a kitchen and dining room.

Iota Omicron Chapter has been active in service projects as it sponsors parties for area orphanages, programs for churches and civic clubs, as well as other off-campus activities.

Phi Alpha

Officially founded on March 9, 1856, at the University of Alabama, Sigma Alpha Epsilon is one of the two "deep" South fraternities and belongs to the Old Line, coast-to-coast fraternities. Conservative in its growth of new chapters, SAE takes pride in its traditions and influence upon the men who affiliate with the "Son's of Minerva."

The Phi Alpha Colony of Sigma Alpha Epsilon was established at East Tennessee State College on May 5, 1960. The "Son's of Minerva" who had left their respective collegiate chapters renewed the bonds of brotherhood and requested recognition from the SAE fraternity to establish a colony at East Tennessee State College.

The members of the Phi Alpha Colony strive toward the installation of a collegiate chapter of SAE.

We have no sweetheart, but a Co-ed of the Year is selected by the chapter and presented at the Spring Formal.

Pi Kappa Alpha

Pi Kappa Alpha was founded at the University of Virginia on March 1, 1868. Epsilon Zeta Chapter of Pi Kappa Alpha was chartered on the East Tennessee State College campus on May 15, 1955, making it the youngest national fraternity on campus.

Pi Kappa Alpha's short history on the State campus has been very eventful. The fraternity is active in all school events, and has held for the sixth time Pike's Peak. This annual event, open to all sororities and this year held during Homecoming, consists of track events, beauty contests, a dance contest, and this year included a Miss "Pike's Peak" contest.

Highlighting the Spring Quarter is the annual dinner dance at which time the Pi Kappa Alpha Dream Girl is announced. The present Dream Girl is Miss Marthanne Bullock.

MILITARY

ROTC At State

The primary mission of the R.O.T.C. is to develop junior officers for the United States Army. The program of instruction covers a four year period for commissioning, the first two years, or the Basic Course, is mandatory for all male students of ETSC. Those who possess essential leadership potential and the highest mental, physical and moral qualities, are selected for the two-year Advanced Course, Summer Camp, and upon graduation from the college, the cadet is commissioned a Second Lieutenant in the Army. Outstanding cadets, designated Distinguished Military Graduates, may apply for direct commissioning in the Regular Army.

The Corp is organized into a cadet brigade composed of two Battle Groups with seven companies each; plus the ROTC Band, Honor Guard, and Woman's Sponsor Corps.

The benefits to the individual, campus, and community of the program in terms of discipline, training and service are immeasurable.

E. T. S. C. Football 1961

Handicapped by injuries and inexperience, the 1961 football Buccaneers emerged from the annual campaign with a 3-7 record.

While losses far exceeded victories, the season was not, however, entirely unsuccessful.

Prior to falling before the onslaught of superior experience and reserve strength, the ETSC eleven waged impressive battles against top Ohio Valley Conference foes and powerful University of Chattanooga.

The Bucs also grew stronger with the seasoning of a tough schedule and as several freshmen and sophomores began with experience to realize their potential.

In the last weeks of the campaign, ETSC turned back Morehead for an Ohio Valley Conference triumph and handed defeats to rugged non-conference foes Austin Peay State and Newberry.

Another factor which prevented the season from being completely unsuccessful was the outstanding achievements of several individual Buc performers in conference activities. Freshman Halfback Phil Morgan emerged as the conference's leading ground gainer and Sophomore Quarterback Jimmy Baker completed the campaign as league leader in both passing and total offense. Morgan's season record was 708 yards on 105 carries for a 6.7 game average. Baker completed 64 passes out of 111 attempts for 859 yards and compiled 406 yards rushing along with his passing yardage for 1265 yards in total offense.

E. T. S. C. Basketball 1961-62

Playing with a number of sophomores and other inexperienced men, East Tennessee State College's basketball Buccaneers compiled an 11-14 worksheet in the 1961-62 season.

The season could not be considered entirely unsuccessful when certain factors are considered.

The Bucs were caught in a year of rebuilding at a time when the Ohio Valley Conference generally had the toughest teams in its history. In addition to playing in the OVC in one of the league's greatest years, the Bucs also were contending with possibly their roughest schedule to date in non-conference play.

Non-league activity saw ETSC mark up such achievements as victories over Furman University and the University of Chattanooga, with the Bucs running into their greatest difficulties when they hit the formidable conference competition.

While losing a number of conference games, the Bucs still distinguished themselves by almost overcoming league champ Western Kentucky on Western's home court. The Bucs also scored a convincing triumph over league foe Murray State.

In individual activity, Sophomore performers Willie Malone and Malvin Roberts made a heavy impact on the OVC statistics races, winning high places in scoring, rebounding, field goal percentage, and free throw percentage.

Women's Intramurals

The department of Physical Education for Women is interested in making available to the students many recreational opportunities, and one way of doing this is through the Women's Intramural Program. The program promotes activities through the Junior and Senior Orchesis, Aquatic Club, Golf Club, contests, and tournaments in various sports. This program is supervised by the Women's Physical Education Department but is carried on largely by the manager, assistant manager and director of intramurals with the Letter Girls directing each sport.

This year approximately five hundred girls participated in some phase of the intramural program. It is the policy of the Women's Physical Education Department, whenever possible, to offer any new activity that a reasonable number of students request. The program is open to any girl who wishes to participate, and we encourage and welcome participation by all girls interested.

Director

Among our most important programs for East Tennessee State College students is the program of Intramural Athletics for Men. Offering several different athletic activities, the program provides each male student with the opportunity to participate in the particular activities in which he is most interested. As a result of this comprehensive program, a great majority of the male student body is involved in healthy and enjoyable competition. Conducted on a fully organized basis by the participation students with faculty guidance, the program also presents participants with excellent opportunities for leadership development.
